Good of the Order –

St. John of the Cross, Spanish San Juan de la Cruz, original name Juan de Yepes y Álvarez, (born June 24, 1542, died December 14, 1591; canonized 1726; feast day December 14), one of the greatest Christian mystics and Spanish poets, doctor of the church, reformer of Spanish monasticism, and cofounder of the contemplative order of Discalced Carmelites. He is a patron saint of mystics and contemplatives and of Spanish poets. John became a Carmelite monk at Medina del Campo, Spain, in 1563 and was ordained priest in 1567. St.

Teresa of Ávila, the celebrated mystic, enlisted his help (1568) in her restoration of Carmelite life to its original observance of austerity. A year later, at Duruelo, he opened the first Discalced Carmelite monastery. Reform, however, caused friction within the order and led to his imprisonment, first in 1576 and again in 1577 at Toledo, where he wrote some of his finest poetry. Escaping in August 1578, he later won high office in the order, becoming vicar provincial of Andalusia from 1585 to 1587. Near the end of his life, the Discalced Carmelites were again troubled by dissension, and he withdrew to absolute solitude.

Sick and Deceased - Let us keep all the following in our prayers:

- The mother of Dale Steger passed away recently.
- Rita Quarles is battling multiple ailments
- Damon Quarles, grandson of Brother Bob Quarles, who is having eye issues and receiving treatment at Johns-Hopkins Hospital.
